In just a few weeks, Brandon Phillips will begin his seminary training at The Master's Seminary. It was a prayerful and slow decision over the course of several years to discern the Lord's leading into pastoral ministry. During the summer of 2012, Brandon and his wife, Angie, received an invitation to the TMS Regional Banquet in Greensboro, North Carolina. Previously, they had decided the time was not right to attend seminary, but they did want to attend the banquet. In Brandon's words, "We are so thankful to the Lord that we did. We were able to meet some of the folks from TMS... Angie was able to spend some time with their wives just asking questions. We came away from the banquet more convinced than ever that we would attend seminary and even more sure that TMS was the right decision."

In God's providence, TMS Regional Banquet was the means to answer Brandon's prayers for direction. We rejoice in the Phillips' decision to pursue gospel ministry after his equipping at TMS. Please pray for this year's Regional Banquets (Tampa and Atlanta), that the Lord would bring future ministers of the gospel like Brandon.

Expectantly,

Richard Mayhue, Th.D.
Executive Vice President and Dean

We Train Men as if Lives Depended on It!

You are receiving this email because you have opted in on our website or have an affiliation with The Master's Seminary.